BACKGROUND

The Aaron Cohn Citizenship Award was established by Dr. David and Jane Cohn Kulbersh of Columbia, South Carolina, daughter and son-in-law of Judge Aaron Cohn, to recognize the qualities that Judge Cohn most admired.

Born and raised in Columbus, Georgia, Judge Aaron Cohn presided over the Juvenile Courts of the Chattahoochee Judicial District for almost 50 years. He spent his life helping to guide the youth of Columbus toward respectful and productive lives and believed in the importance of encouraging young people to be engaged in and loyal to their school and community.

The Aaron Cohn Citizenship Award is awarded annually to honor an Aaron Cohn Middle School eighth grade student for their civic awareness, scholastic achievements, and community service.

This award seeks to inspire students to become active citizens while giving back to their communities because civic responsibility developed at an early age usually continues throughout a lifetime.

OVERVIEW

The Aaron Cohn Citizenship Award recognizes one eighth grade student from Aaron Cohn Middle School who demonstrates the qualities of active participation in civic and community activities, good scholarship and school involvement.

The selected student will be recognized at the annual Aaron Cohn Middle School awards ceremony and will receive a check for $1,000 and a personal plaque presented by an Aaron Cohn family member. Additionally, the award recipient's name will be inscribed on a permanent plaque located in the Aaron Cohn Middle School lobby.

A check for $1,000 will also be given in honor of the award recipient to the Principal's Emergency Discretionary Fund at Aaron Cohn Middle School.
