Complete a data-informed self-rating for each Georgia School Performance Standard (GSPS). Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students). See the Supportive Learning Environment webinar for additional information and guidance.

2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use?	We will use the Self-Assessment Survey (SAS), Tiered Fidelity Instrument
	(TFI), student surveys, parent surveys, and faculty surveys.

What does the perception data tell you?	Teachers feel disruptive behaviors take away from the learning. The majority of the teachers responded favorably to questions. There were no surprises. The questions dealing with respect, bullying, and parental involvement were the lowest rated areas. It also tells us that transitions between instructional and non-instructional activities is an area needing support. Additionally, it is perceived that we need to offer more formal opportunities for families to receive training on behavioral support/positive parenting strategies.

What process data did you use?	We used observations, walk-throughs, PBIS SWIS discipline data, and Data Team Documentation.

What does your process data tell you?	Some teachers are implementing processes with fidelity. Some departments are stronger with implementation than others. We need to improve consistency across the building. When there are breakdowns in a group, the rest of the group takes on increased responsibility to keep the processes in place.
	This year we did a good job of teaching and modeling our PBIS Expectations.
	However, there were some teachers who did not reinforce them which is a critical area needing improvement.

What achievement data did you use?	Georgia Milestones SGM's
	Lexile Scores
	Observational Data

What does your achievement data tell you?	Baker Middle School is working to increase overall student achievement. Baker will continue to streamline instruction and pacing to support transient students, implement strategies to support students who do not speak English, focus on Reading strategies to increase lexiles and improve instructional strategies and the use of MTSS to support students varying needs.

What demographic data did you use?	Georgia Milestones, GOSA

What does the demographic data tell you?	The demographics and financial trends observed by the team include the low socioeconomic status of many of the families at Baker Middle School. The school also has an ESOL population and continues to receive students who do not speak English. Baker also has a very transient population.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	Strengths include common planning, effective leadership and the opportunity for professional learning. Teachers know and understand curriculum documents and are provided opportunities for collaboration and leadership.
	Leadership also works to ensure teachers have resources to increase the efficiency and use of data to monitor student achievement. Teachers have clear expectations and have an academic coach to support the implementation of those expectations.

Challenges	Challenges include high teacher turnover, which impacts the effectiveness of professional development. Topics are often repeated instead of mastered because of the need to train new teachers each year. Some classroom teachers have not established well-managed and academically challenging environments. Students are also transient and teachers don't have the opportunity to work with them for the entire year. The number of students who speak English as a second language has also been challenging. Some students speak little to no English and some have had no formal education.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.2 Identification and Prioritization of Overarching Needs

Use the results of 3.1 to identify the overarching needs of the LEA. Determine the priority order of the identified needs based on data, team member and stakeholder knowledge, and answers to questions in the table below. Be sure to address the major program challenges identified in 3.1. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

~	Other (if selected, please describe below)Baker Middle School continuously works to improve school climate and student achievement. Facing low student motivation and students with limited skills and resources, teachers and support staff work to implement opportunities to engage students in high interest reading as well as reading that will support increased comprehension. Teachers are also implementing the Gradual Release Framework for instruction to support content acquisition and deepening understanding. Work on differentiation and checks for understanding will also increase teachers' abilities to monitor student learning and provide students with needed support, scaffolds, and rigor to grow to the next level of achievement.
	Baker Middle School will also continue to implement a Positive Behavior Intervention and Supports Team, train faculty, and monitor implementation. Implementing a digital PBIS reward system and reviewing the data on a regular basis will increase effectiveness.
