

Moving to Middle School

Make A Smooth Transition:
Preparing Your Child for Middle School Success

Prepare For New Academic Challenges

- Expect a lot from your child
- Stay positive
- Ask about school everyday
- Help your child learn to manage time
- Learn to manage changing classes
- Teach your child good organizational skills
- Get a planner

What Parents Can Do To Help With Middle School Success:

- Make sure you have an Infinite Campus Login to check your child's grades and attendance.
- Stay in contact with the school.
- Get to know the counselor and parent liaison.
- Attend parent meetings.
- Know what is going on with your child academically.
- Be familiar with high school requirements.
- Be involved with your child's education.
- Have regular discussions with your child about their future.

Parents, if you don't have access to your kids grades online for Infinite Campus, you can now create your own account. You can check grades for each class, check attendance, and more.

You can get notifications every time grades are entered by the teacher. This will allow you to keep up with what assignments are completed or what assignments are late.

There is an Infinite Campus App to check grades on your phone. The app is called Campus Portal and looks like the picture above. It is available on Apple and Android phones. You will have access to grades right at your fingertips.

Also, your students can download the student app to teach them responsibility in keeping up with their own assignments and grades.

Talk about the move: It's a New Environment!

- Take a tour of the school
- Meet his/her teachers, if possible
- Review the route to school or the bus stop
- Go over the school handbook

Elementary Vs. Middle School

Elementary

- Most elementary 5th grade classes are self contained with a few changing classes 2-3 times per day.
- Classwork and projects are easier to manage.
- Elementary students may or may not have homework every night.
- Personal belongings are kept in the classroom.

Middle School

- Middle school students change classes 6-7 times per day.
- Classwork and projects take more effort to manage because of having multiple classes/teachers.
- Schoolwork is more challenging.
- Middle school students have more homework to manage from multiple teachers.
- Personal belongings are kept in lockers. Students have an allotted amount of time between classes.
- Different middle schools have different requirements for what types of bookbags that are allowed.

Elementary Vs. Middle School

Elementary

- Students in grades 3-5 take the Georgia Milestones (GMAS). All students in grades 3-5 take the Reading and Math assessments, but 5th grade students will also take the Science and Social Studies assessments.
- Elementary students take P.E. three times a week.

Middle School

- Students in grades 6-8 take Georgia Milestones (GMAS). All students in grades 6-8 take the Reading and Math assessments, but 8th grade students will also take the Science and Social Studies assessments. Algebra I students will take the End of Course test for GMAS.
- Middle school students take P.E. every day and must dress out.
